Field Technician

Job Description: Local Environmental/Geotechnical Drilling company is currently looking for applicants with basic mechanical skills for an entry level Field technician/Driller Helper. As we approach the upcoming season, we are looking to add skilled people to our staff. Attention to details is a must. Problem solving and ability to adapt to changing situations is highly desirable. Ability to lift 50 lb routinely. In addition to your skillset, you must have a current driver's license, pass a pre-employment physical/drug test, and ability to pass a background check (necessary for access to Military installations).

Frequent extensive travel is required as we roll into the upcoming season (lots of overtime). This is not a scheduled rotation position, such as Slope work. Travel duration is dependent on length of our client's scope (usually 2 to 4 weeks). We will provide additional training (on the job or otherwise), as necessary. Are you punctual and have an excellent attendance record? Consider yourself to have a great work ethic? A self-starter? A people person? Able to learn quickly? If so, please email your resume to this ad. Local applicants only. We are NOT offering relocation for this position.

Salary Range for entry level position: $16-$20 per hour DOE. This ranges from $3200-$3800 gross per pay period for field work.

Military veterans strongly encouraged to apply.
